BEING PREPARED

> Register as a power dependent critical care consumer with SA Power Networks by telephoning 13 12 61. Whilst registering won’t guarantee continuous electricity supply, SA Power Networks will keep you informed of planned outages so you can manage your care during a power outage.

> Contact:
- Your power retailer and ensure that they are aware you are a power dependent critical care consumer. Your power retailer will also forward your contact details to SA Power Networks.
- The distributor or provider of your life saving devices and oxygen cylinders about how to access back-up batteries to run your medical devices during prolonged power outages. Some retailers will also deliver oxygen cylinders to you in the event of a prolonged power outage.
- Your Local Health Network or Health Service Respiratory Clinic to arrange access to back-up oxygen cylinders.

> If needed, arrange access to critical medications from a pharmacy as defined with your GP, by contacting your:
- local pharmacy as listed in your plan to determine if they are able to supply you with your required medicines.

> Contact your doctor for advice if you live in a country location and your local pharmacy is not open.

> Visit your local hospital pharmacy.

> Identify and nominate your key carers, family members or agencies who will support you during a power outage:
- record and keep a list of their contact details in a place that is easy to access at all times.
- contact them to advise of planned or unplanned power outages so they can assist you during an outage.
