

New Adelaide Dental Hospital

Frequently Asked Questions

Updated 31 October 2017

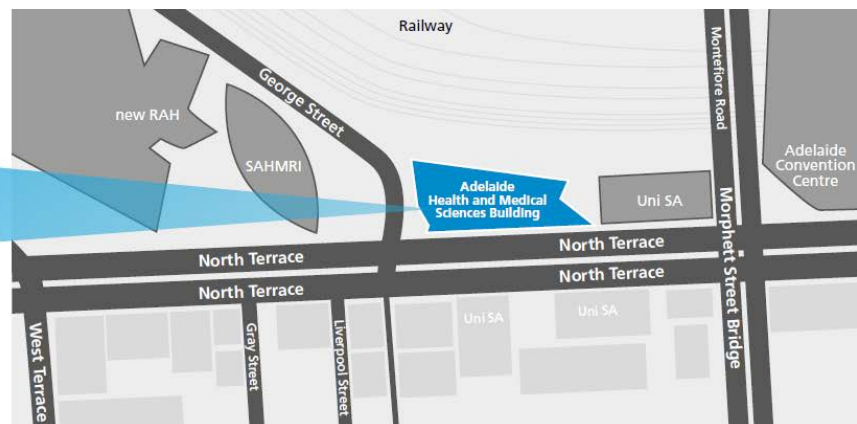

The Adelaide Dental Hospital has opened.

See the Adelaide Dental Hospital page for more information.

Where is the hospital located?

The Adelaide Dental Hospital is located on levels 10, 11 and 12 of the Adelaide Health and Medical Sciences Building, on the corner of North Terrace and George Street. The building is located between SAHMRI (South Australian Health and Medical Research Institute) and the University of South Australia building.

The Adelaide Dental Hospital is moving to the University of Adelaide Health and Medical Sciences Building on the corner of North Tce and George St on 26 June 2017.

How do I access the hospital?

Detailed information about access to the Adelaide Dental Hospital is available on the website at www.sahealth.sa.gov.au/sadental, including public transport information, off-site parking and a map to access the building.

Disability drop-off and pick-up

Two 10-minute loading zones and four two-hour disability parking bays are located on the south-side of North Terrace, directly opposite the University of Adelaide Health and Medical Sciences Building and in close proximity to the pedestrian crossing.

Two 15-minute restricted access parking bays are located at the back of the University of Adelaide Health and Medical Sciences Building, on the lower ground level. These parking bays are accessible via George Street, off North Terrace. The lower ground level entrance into the building is signed and leads directly to the lifts to access the Adelaide Dental Hospital on levels 10, 11 and 12.

Public transport

The new Adelaide Dental Hospital has bus, tram and rail networks nearby. For the most up-to-date public transport information, please call the Adelaide Metro Infoline on 1300 322 108 or visit the Adelaide Metro website.

More detailed information is available on the website at www.sahealth.sa.gov.au/sadental.
