2022 Nomination Guide

The Minister for Health and Wellbeing – Excellence in Public Health Awards celebrate council initiatives across South Australia which have resulted in outstanding contributions to public health in local communities.

The Awards showcase stories of success in delivering public health benefits for local communities, and the essential, often unseen, roles of local councils in supporting community health and wellbeing through public health action. The Awards provide an opportunity for South Australian councils to demonstrate alignment between local public health priorities and those of the State Public Health Plan 2019-2024:

PROMOTE – build stronger communities and healthier environments

PROTECT – against public and environmental health risks and respond to climate change

PREVENT – chronic disease, communicable disease, and injury

PROGRESS – strengthen the systems that support public health and wellbeing

Councils are encouraged to nominate a single initiative that has resulted in public health excellence for their community. The winners (in two categories, Regional and Metropolitan) will represent outstanding examples of local public health action, which can raise the practice bar across local government, and promote greater awareness of the importance of public health for all South Australians.

The 2022 Nomination Guide provides councils with information about the 2022 Minister for Health and Wellbeing – Excellence in Public Health Awards. Before beginning your nomination, please read the Guide's information about:

Assessment

The judging panel draws on expert advice from the South Australian Public Health Council (SAPHC), the Local Government Association (LGA), and the public health sector, including SA Health. The panel is chaired by the Chief Public Health Officer.

The judging panel will independently assess all nominations, select finalists, winners and commendations for each Award category.

All entries will be judged according to the criteria outlined in this Nomination Guide.

All decisions and recommendations from the judging panel are final and binding, and no correspondence regarding its decisions and recommendations will be entered into.

The judging panel reserves the right to remove an Award category or not award a winner if there are no suitable applicants.

Assessment Criteria

(please see the Application Form for detail)

The single initiative can be:

- > An ongoing commitment to core public health functions; and /or
- > A new approach for council towards addressing public health needs.

All applications will be assessed according to:

1. Strategic value

- > Responds to local public health priorities and meets Council's Regional Public Health Plan action/commitments
- > Is consistent with priorities outlined in the State Public Health Plan 2019-2024
- > Describes the benefit(s) it seeks to achieve and why (linked to evidence) these have been targeted, and the demonstrated or expected results of the initiative
- > Demonstrates sustainability and/or potential for integration into ongoing council business

2. Quality of development, delivery, and measurement

- > Demonstrates engagement with community and other key stakeholders
- > Explains what the project did, key achievements and learnings
- > Provides evidence of benefit(s) achieved, and/or an outline of the approach to measurement

The Awards event

The 2022 Awards ceremony is being held as part of the Local Government Association (LGA) Annual General Meeting on 28 October 2022. Finalists will be invited to attend the ceremony, where Award winners will be announced.

Each Regional and Metropolitan Award winner will receive a trophy, presented by the Minister for Health and Wellbeing, and a signed certificate acknowledging their contribution to public health excellence. The winners will receive a monetary prize of $3000 for use to further progress public health initiatives in their local council area. If a group of councils win an Award, certificates will be provided to each participating council, the trophy and prize money will be shared, and additional trophies can be made available on request and at the participant's expense.

Award winners will be recognised at the Award presentation ceremony and via other promotional means, including the SA Health website.

Terms and Conditions

- > All written and online applications must be received by 5pm on Friday 9 September. Late applications will not be considered.
- > Applicants should read the Nomination Guide and respond to all parts of the Application Form within the word limits specified.
- > Information provided on the Application Form must be accurate and may be used by SA Health for promotional purposes as examples of public health excellence. SA Health will seek permission from applicants before publishing this material.
- > Councils are responsible for obtaining necessary consents and copyright for publication of information, quotes and photographs, before submitting an application for the Awards.
- > Award winners will receive a monetary prize of $3000 which must be spent on furthering public health initiatives in their local council area(s).
- > Award winners will be required to provide a report to SA Health by 5 May 2023 detailing how the prize monies have been used.

Privacy Statement

SA Health is committed to fair information handling practices consistent with South Australian Government policy and legislation.

Private and personal information supplied by applicants will only be used to assist the judging panel with decision-making and to contact nominees as required.

Information will not be disclosed or used for any other purpose, including publicity, without the express consent of the person to whom the information relates, unless otherwise required by law.

2021 Metropolitan winner

City of Salisbury

From Big Things Positive Things Grow – Adaptive Program Delivery in a Changing World

The program supported older people to improve their digital literacy skills during the COVID-19 pandemic. The funding helped increase the delivery of community led programs/groups, delivered sustainable fortnightly small group tech sessions, and enabled more people to access reliable information from trusted sources.

Prize expenditure summary

The $3,000 award was used to buy a laptop for health and wellbeing community presentations, two iPads for practical hands-on technology training, and protective cases. The new equipment supported Tech Try Tuesdays, a fortnightly session for up to 10 people that helped participants build technical skills, increase their digital literacy, and learn how to access reliable public health information. Funds also supported monthly 'Chat and Learn' health and wellbeing sessions.

2021 Regional winner Southern and Hills Local Government Association Community Wellbeing Indicators for SA Local Government

Southern and Hills Local Government Association (S&HLGA) developed a framework of indicators of community wellbeing, which highlighted outcomes that local government could influence, and to assist councils with evidence for strategic, public health, and community planning, and service provision.

Prize expenditure summary

The bulk of prize money is being used to develop the Accessible Community event training proposal, improve access and inclusion for people with disability, and to fund advertising of the S&HLGA draft 2022-2027 Regional Public Health Plan public consultation process. The remainder of funds ensured each member council received a certificate of this achievement.

2021 Minister for Health and Wellbeing – Excellence in Public Health Commendations

Councils highly commended for their public health initiatives included

City of Burnside ‘The Shed programs’

Wudinna District Council for its ‘Game On Wudinna! Eyre Peninsula Regional Games’ and

‘Wudinna Apex Park – Integrated Recreation and Sports Activity Zone.’

2020 Metropolitan winner City of Charles Sturt City of Charles Sturt St Clair Immunisation Clinic

The City of Charles Sturt Immunisation Clinic has increased customer visits by 71% since 2017. The clinic runs 50 weeks of the year, for anyone who requires vaccinations, regardless of where they live, reflecting excellence, access, and equity in immunisation services.

Prize expenditure summary

The $3,000 award is being used to supplement a new and timely marketing campaign for the City of Charles Sturt's St Clair Immunisation Clinic. The new campaign speaks to the diversity of the Charles Sturt community and our Immunisation Clinic clients. It promotes the full scope of Clinic services and highlights our caring, inclusive environment. A key focus is the great experience customers receive. The award prize money is also supporting refreshed campaign and immunisation information to reach more people – through council's webpage, print media and billboard advertising.

2020 Regional winner District Council of Orroroo Carrieton Despite the Dust Community Muster

The Despite the Dust Community Muster was initiated through the council's Community Wellbeing Support Initiative Strategy 2019/20 to respond to the impact of ongoing drought in the region. The event aimed to build social inclusion, connectedness and community pride. It all aimed to diversify and build resilience in the Orroroo Carrieton economy. It gave social and practical support to isolated farming families, boosting regional tourism, local business, and volunteering.

Prize expenditure summary

The $3,000 award has been allocated to a second 'Despite the dust' event. Originally planned for late 2020, due to COVID-19 the event is rescheduled to the last week of October in 2021 to coincide with Mental Health Month 2021.

2019 Metropolitan winner City of Playford Elizabeth Grove Place-based Community Development Project

The Elizabeth Grove place-based community development project facilitated place-based projects, chosen by the local community, to improve health and wellbeing of families in Elizabeth Grove. These consisted of a sports equipment library at the Secombe Street Reserve, the planting of community fruit trees, and a laneway where placemaking artwork will be installed.

Prize expenditure summary

The $3,000 award supported funding for the establishment of the 'Healthy Communities' project in Smithfield Plains and Davoren Park. With these projects, Council aims to create an increase in socially connected behaviours, activation of community spaces, and an increase in community uptake of waste-reduction and recycling initiatives, creating a healthier and happier community. Established through a 'World Café' consultation with community members, final projects include a mural involving youth participation, redevelopment of a common area at a local shopping centre, a park/playground promotional activity and other waste education initiatives, enhancing the aesthetics of the area.

2019 Regional winner Mid Murray Council Fresh Frenzy Program

The Fresh Frenzy Program was developed to help improve education among local Mid Murray School children about healthy eating habits. It was delivered through a range of strategies, including education, programs, environmental changes, policy awareness, promotion and meaningful engagement with the student's regular role models.

Prize expenditure summary

The $3,000 award was used to fund a drinking fountain as part of the Mid Murray Council's Len White Reserve development. Mid Murray Council aims to increase opportunities to access free drinking water where possible, including through this new development. The Len White Reserve is a popular water skiing and boating spot located in Swan Reach. This project represents an opportunity to integrate and link the reserve to the town of Swan Reach and other places of interest along the riverfront to encourage healthy, active recreation, to improve connectivity and a sense of place, and economic development in the region.

2019 Minister for Health and Wellbeing – Excellence in Public Health Commendations

Councils highly commended for their public health initiatives included

City of Onkaparinga Hoarding and Squalor initiatives

City of Burnside 'Urban Forest' Interactive Project

Wattle Range Council 'Celebrate Seniors October' Program
